He has served as an editor for the Tax Book in addition to being a major contributor to the University of Illinois Tax School Manual and an instructor at their seminars held throughout the state of Illinois.

Chris has presented income tax courses to thousands of CPA's, attorneys, and enrolled agents nationwide. He has presented preparation courses for the Enrolled Agent Examination for over fifteen years throughout the country. Chris is a frequent speaker for Professional Tax and Accounting Associations nationwide.

2021 Income Tax Update is Offered as an Online Webinar Only

This year's tax workbook topics will include a wide range of relevant topics, including:

- The completion of the PPP program, the deductibility of expenses, and the application for forgiveness
- The new IRS rules covering the definition of real estate for the IRC 1031 exchange
- Construction Industry tax issues
- An Ethics chapter covering issues related to working virtually
- Ministers tax issues
- The latest on the Real Estate Professional status
- Business entity issues
- And MUCH more

We are anticipating several tax changes coming out of Washington towards the end of 2021. Many of the proposals change tax planning concepts we practitioners have used over our entire careers, such as the Capital Gains Cliff, the elimination of step-up basis, the reduction in the Estate and Gift tax exemption, potential major reductions in depreciation deductions, and many other things. Our fall seminar series will include full coverage of any changes that become law through the fall seminar schedule, regardless of the timing of the workbook printing.

The Invaluable National Income Tax Workbook 2021,

700 page volume with a complete index, is included with your webinar registration.

If changes warrant, you will receive a supplement covering the current income tax items of interest, in addition to having access to the regular electronic updates. No CD will be included with the book in 2021, instead the attendee will be provided with a code that will allow access to a searchable archive of past books that will be available online.
